JUST WHAT YOUR STUDENTS NEED!

An engaging speaker, inspirational role model, and former teacher, author Patricia Dischler can deliver a presentation that brings out the writer in each student in your school! From inspiring Kindergarteners by demonstrating how a children's book is made to motivating Middle-School and High School students to pursue publishing. Every presentation provides guidance on how students can expand their writing skills, where to find inspiring topics, how to build on ideas, create more descriptive writing and use editing to their advantage.

See What Other Schools Are Saying...

"Patricia taught my students more in one day that I could in an entire semester of writing skills!"

-Tracy, 5th Grade Teacher

"The children were so inspired after meeting Patricia, children who were never wanted to write have begun writing entire books!"

-Mary, 7th Grade Teacher

"Seeing the process for a children's book production has inspired both the writers AND illustrators in my class! We're using her ideas to create class books that the entire class is engaged in!"

-Amy, 2nd Grade Teacher

"Patricia is so great with the children, she keeps them engaged and having fun while delivering important information. The Imagination Caps art project was such a perfect follow up activity, it kept the excitement going all day long!"

-Laura, Kindergarten Teacher
